

Domestic Refurbishments

Why Refurbish?

Most people decide to refurbish their properties because of damaged plasterwork and worn surfaces combined with obsolete electrical systems and insufficient insulation and soundproofing. Other typical motives for refurbishment include updating aesthetics to modern standards and replacing old windows that waste energy while also enhancing heating and cooling systems. Our team of architects, designers and decorators will assist you in finding the perfect design solution while integrating all necessary requirements.

Deciding What You Want

London Elite Trades provides refurbishment and remodel services for homes and businesses while also offering complete building-from-scratch options. We will arrange an initial meeting to explore your needs and examine the areas before we address any potential issues. Construction starts once our designers and architects finish their planning.

Compliance

Meeting building codes and fire safety regulations remains a fundamental requirement. London Elite Trades collaborates with you and municipal authorities to confirm compliance with all codes throughout the refurbishment project.

Division of Duties

London Elite Trades delivers complete construction services while remaining in close contact with you through every phase of the project. Our specialized contractors deliver both quality and meticulous attention to detail. Our professional team members hold both certification and licenses which guarantees project completion within budget while maintaining the highest standards of quality and on-time delivery.

Insulation Installations

Our team installs high-quality attic insulation while providing you with options including loose fill, blanket, and foam products. Our soundproofing services extend to walls and doors employing materials such as fiberglass blankets, vinyl rubber, and sound panels. Our team will perform necessary repairs or replacements of damaged plaster and technical systems to ensure compliance with required regulations.

Summary

London Elite Trades provides complete solutions for remodelling and refurbishment as well as redecorating projects. We collaborate with homeowners and architects alongside building authorities and insurance companies to make sure every procedure follows codes and safety standards. Your completed project will offer peace of mind because it will be executed properly from beginning to end.
