Who Are We?

London Elite Trades delivers full-service support for building and renovating both homes and businesses from start to finish. Our main focus is to collaborate with clients and officials to complete each project according to safety standards and legal requirements while meeting all code regulations. Our electricians obtain full training and certification via an intense 4-year apprenticeship program that combines classroom instruction with practical work experience.

Accreditation

Our electricians receive licenses after successfully completing exams in electrical theory as well as the National Electrical Code and safety regulations. Electricians who demonstrate competence register with the Joint Industry Board to acquire their Electrotechnical Certification Scheme card which certifies their compliance with required standards.

What We Do

Our company installs, maintains, and upgrades electrical systems for residential and commercial properties. Our team uses blueprints to meticulously plan the placement of circuits as well as outlets and equipment locations. Our installation process includes the use of conduit benders along with voltmeters and clamp meters to achieve both precise work and safety standards. Our services extend beyond full system installations to include smaller projects such as ceiling fan installation, outdoor lighting installation and security system setup.

Type of Work

Electricians who work in residential settings carry out scaled-down installation work and repair tasks within single-family dwellings. Commercial electricians operate large systems including security and electronic key setups while they perform regular maintenance. Journeyman electricians possess the necessary experience and qualifications which allow them to operate and complete tasks on both residential and commercial electrical systems independently.

Our Electricians

The team of electricians at London Elite Trades possesses advanced skills for both updating old wiring systems and creating and installing effective lighting solutions. Our service portfolio covers lighting design together with fuse box upgrades security systems outdoor lighting and general electrical repairs and we guarantee top-quality completion for all projects.
